MUSTER ROLLS

GEN. MAXIMO GOMEZ URGING HASTE IN THEIR REVISION,

Nearly 2,800 Former Insurgents Paid by General Randall-Opposition to Trolley Lines.

HAVANA, June 19 .- General George M Randall has returned from paying the Cubans. He says he paid almost 2,800 men. The majority delivered up their arms, which were turned over to the civil authorities A few were arrested for issuing bogus certificates of discharge, and were turned over to the alcades. The general expects to begin paying in Havana to-morrow. The additional pay rolls will probably not be ready for six weeks.

coming anxious to receive their money, as the proprietors of the hotels and restaurants are unwilling to allow them more credit, owing to the uncertainty of the men's inclusion in the revised lists. General Gomez realizes the necessity for haste, and is urging the officers to hurry the necessary data to him. This morning he instructed Gen. Rafael Rodriguez, his chief of staff, to open an office at Quinta de los Molinas, and to begin the preparation of the new lists. The work was begun later in the day. General Rodriguez has mailed personal notices and published in all the newspapers of the island instructions to division, corps, brigade, regimental and company commanders to, as soon as possible, complete data -the names of all the men of their commands, with the dates of enlistment and the periods of service. The preparation of the lists will be pushed forward with all speed, because of the pitiable condition of the soldiery, virtually mobilized miles from home at the pay stations.

Some interesting discoveries have resulted from the observations made by the officials charged with the studying of the tidal currents in Havana harbor. All the observations show a constant outward flow, with only a subcurrent of inrunning fresh water. Owing to the shoals at the extreme wes end of the harbor, large deposits of mud and other filth have been made there, but it is believed that with proper dredging and an ordinary amount of attention the harbor can be made clear, thus doing away with the possibility of infection. Although salt is a natural disinfectant, it is not thought that much comes from the main current, although there is probably some from the shoals. The proposal to construct electric car lines is meeting with considerable opposition, especially in certain districts where the streets, already surveyed for the line, are only twenty feet wide and are dangerous even for cabs, collisions being frequent. The opponents of the movement contend also that the buildings along many of these thoroughfares are high and crowded, and probably would become untenantable at night owing to the clanging of bells. The companies desire to build a single overhead wire, with the bonded-rail system, but this is disapproved on all sides. Efforts will be made to compel the use of the ouble overhead wire or the underground conduit. The sewer-grade drift in Havana is so slight that in many localities the pipes are close to the surface, and it is argued that these would be ruined by the General Brooke's headquarters is already on the move from El Vedado to the palace formerly occupied by Marshal Blanco in Havana province. Three men, who left Dahl nibalism and death on the Yukon has just river on Dec. 7 for Jimtown, were not heard of again and they were supposed to have been lost. Nothing was heard of them here day, brought a terrible tale of suffering and horror. The men were Michael Daly, R. I., and Brockton, Mass., respectively. Their bodies were discovered seventeen miles south of the mouth of Old Man's creek, they having lost the trail and become bewildered. Having left Dahl river with only fifteen days' food they were soon reduced to starvation. Daly's body was found, partly eaten, on the stove in a tent just as it was left when death overtook the others. Some scraps of moose hide and moccasin were found, of which they body was identified by the clothes. The other two men were found dead five miles away from the tent. The fact of the tent flaps being shut down when found would seem to preclude the possibility of Daly's body being eaten by animals. The other men, doubtless, were driven by hunger to the awful extremity of cannibalism. Four hundred dollars were found on the bodies. The seven boats which wintered at Dahl river are all safe. "Sir-In obedience to your order of the 12th inst., I have to report the following as the statement by Lieutenant Commander Hodgson of the conversation between Rear Admiral Schley and himself during the action of July 3, 1898. He states:

"'As we were approaching the Spanish ships I heard Admiral Schley say port or starboard several times to Captain Cook in the conning tower, the admiral being on had been on the bridge above and was just coming down to report the position f the ships when I heard the admiral say. "Hard a-port." The Maria Teresa was then hauling abaft our port beam. The Brooklyn was heading about northeast. I told the admiral, or at least suggested to him, that the Texas was very close on our starboard hand and that turning to starboard would bring us too close to her. I don't know that I used the word "collision." I did not say "you mean starboard." I intended him to understand there was danger of running into the Texas. He said "All right," or words to that effect-I cannot repeat verbatim. When I knew he was going to turn to starboard I suggested backing the starboard engine in order to make a smaller circle and give the Texas a wider berth, but he decided against that as decreasing the speed of the turn. He did not say, that I know of, "We are near enough to them (the Spaniards) already." The only thing I gathered from what he said was that if we turned to port we should get so close that we should expose ourselves to torpedo attacks. I supposed he meant torpedo boats, and replied to him that I had not seen

What I want to show is that the dialogue did not occur." I then wrote a denial of the colloquy, certainly not intending to say that colloquy occurred, but that it did not occur as printed. The letter to his wife follows: "My Darling Wife-I have reached this point where Azrael's thread is all that is left of me. I feel well assured that your love and esteem will crown my memory when they could not bless my life. I die that you might live. Think of me as I was in the palmier days of my life and let the mantel of your charity cover those faults which were more infirmities than sins, engendere in despondency and cultivated by disappointment. I send the bullet through my brain instead of my heart that you may know its last throes beat for you and the dear ones I leave with such ineffable sorrow.

The letter to Dr. Donohoe was sealed. I will be delivered to-morrow. There were Dr. Sparn, who accompanied the corpse the morgue, and his companions objected to them being given out for publication and the sergeant locked the letters up.

Suicide of a Banker.

BURR OAK, Mich., June 19 .- At the di ner table to-night John T. Holmes, a prom inent business man drew a revolver, pointed it at his wife and pulled the trigger. The weapon missed fire and he was speedily disarmed by his son. He then left the house and endeavored to jump into the river. When he was forcibly prevented from doing this he went to the bank where he com-menced to act strangely. He denied having taken poison, but in a few minutes died convulsions. Domestic troubles are believed to have made him temporarily insane. Dr. Holmes owned considerable property in To-

The Coming Speaker. Philadelphia Telegraph. When General Henderson takes the va cant seat on the marble throne he will prove an entirely different sort of man from his immediate predecessor. He will not in cur the opprobrium of being called a "czar," but everything will go and every man on the floor will have his chance and his "whack." The House may not become a veritable bear garden like the chambers at Paris and Vienna, but the stately decorum to which we have become accustomed will disappear from chair and floor alike. The judicious will be made to grieve and to lament the exit of the man with the iron hand, the unflinching will and the bitter irony of Thomas B. Reed. An experienced Washington correspondent sums up the probable results of the change by saying: "Henderson undoubtedly means to be on the right side of the great questions and to | ought to draw the town." do the right thing, though as speaker he may good naturedly cost the country $25,-000,000 a year more than 'Joe' Cannon would or any other man of the Reed type and carrying out the Reed ideas." If this be a true estimate of General Henderson's capacity for good-natured mischief the country be forced to pay rather dearly for Mr. vened here to-day with about sixty delegates. Reed's exit from the congressional stage. President W. D. B. Wiggins, of Chicago, But, then, as we all know by bitter perexperience, "blessings brighten as they take their flight." There will, however, be one redeeming feature in the rule of the new speaker. He was born in Scotland, and therefore will not be tempted to intrigue for a presidential nomination.

A Steamship's China and Silver. Ladies' Home Journal. There are a thousand spoons for sour the same number for tea, and half that number for coffee and dessert. The heaviest forkdrawer contains a thousand dinner orks, and next to that is the same number of breakfast forks. For raw oysters there are 300 forks provided, and for fish about the same number. Knives follow closely the same figures, 1,000 each of dinner and breakfast sizes, 600 for dessert, and 260 for fruit. The pantry is lined with shelves which are fitted with racks in which stand high piles china, secure from the motion of the stormiest sea. The plate-warmer holds many of them, but there are enough left to stock a china shop. There are 1,200 cups and saucers for coffee, tea and bouillon; there are over 400 water tumblers, and other glasses in smaller proportion. The plates of the popular size number 2,200, and the soup-plates are only 450.

Letter from Bryan to Hibernians. ST. LOUIS, June 19 .- Colonel William J. Bryan, in a letter declining an invitation to attend a picnic to be given by the Ancient Order of Hibernians, owing to other engagements, says: "All races have exhibited more or less of race pride and attachment, but none has shown itself more devoted than the Irish to the land of their birth and the people of their blood. ELKS AT ST. LOUIS.

Twenty-Five Thousand Expected in the Mound City To-Day.

ST. LOUIS, June 19 .- The thirty-first annual convention and reunion of the Benevoto M. Wicke, jeweler, corner Eleventh and lent and Protective Order of Elks begins in Franklin avenue. Please return with my this city to-morrow. All day long and tonight delegations of the antiered tribe from all sections of the country stepped off the trains at the various depots and marched to the quarters assigned them at different hotels. A conservative estimate places the arrivals at four thousand to-night and by to-morrow night it is expected they will be augmented by at least ten thousand more. In addition to this immense host, probably twenty thousand to twenty-five thousand strangers will be in St. Louis to witness the parade and other festivities. The city is Where naught can wound and nothing can | decorated with purple and white bunting

To-night the streets are crowded with marching delegations, headed by brass bands playing inspiring airs. Big crowds line marching by. Among the lodges to arrive first on the ground were the following: Birmingham, 45; Nashville, 25; Louisville, 500; Owensboro, 10; Texas, 50; Allegheny, 200; Columbus, 40; Greenville, Miss., 20. This evening three hundred Elks from Cincinnati arriveo. At the same time the Kansas City lodge, eighty strong, and the Davenport lodge, sixty members, arrived. Early this morning the Grand Lodge offi cials opened their headquarters at the Southern Hotel. The entire complement of officials is on hand and four large rooms ffices. Grand Exalted Ruler John Galvin. Cincinnati, will not stand for re-election. There are two active candidates for his po-sition, Judge B. M. Allen, of Birmingham, Ala., and George A. Pare, of Cumberland, Md. For the position of grand secretary the contest will be between George A. Reynolds of Saginaw, Mich., the present incumbent and Bert Lyon, of St. Louis.

AMUSEMENTS.

Augustin Daly's Funeral.

NEW YORK, June 19 .- The funeral of Augustin Daly was held from St. Patrick's Cathedral to-day. The cathedral was crowded and even the aisles filled. The pallbearers brought the coffin to the head of the isle, where it was put in place and covered with lilies. The pallbearers were Joseph Jefferson, Theodore Moss, Richard Dorney, George Clarke, ex-Justice Roger A. Pryor, Richard M. Henry, William Winter, St. Clair McElway, Joseph Howard jr., A. Sullivan, George A. Robinson, John D. Crimmins, Neison Goodwin Green, Oliver L. Jones and John B. Schoeffel. hind the pallbearers sat a delegation from the Actors' Fund, intimate friends, members of Daly companies and representatives of many clubs and organizations to which he belonged. The requiem mass was celebrated, and the absolution was proby Archbishop Corrigan. The funeral ser-mon was delivered by Rev. Father Lavelle, rector of the cathedral, who took for his text: "Let us praise men of renown." There were many beautiful floral offerings, among the largest being those from Mr. Daly's company in this city, and the Leicester-square Theater in London. The interment was in Calvary Cemetery.

"An American Citizen" Is a Hit. LONDON, June 20.-A brilliant audience at the Duke of York's theater last evening received with great favor the production of "An American Citizen." under the management of Mr. Charles Frohman. Nat Goodwin and Misses Maxine Elliot and Gertrude Elliott had enthusiastic recalls. The newspapers this morning predict that the play will prove one of the most popular and diverting entertainments in London. The Daily Mail says: "It is fresh, fragrant and mirth-provoking; is acted with perfection and ought to become the rage."

The Daily Telegraph devotes a column to a glowing eulogy of the play and says: "With a single exception there is no more excellent comedy entertainment to be seen in London, Mr. Goodwin must have though England a trifle chilly, whereas, in fact luck was against him. He is now rewarded for his patience. 'An American Citizen' is a joyous visitor, and Miss Maxine Elliott

Stage Employes' Union. CINCINNATI, O., June 19 .- The seventh annual convention ol the National Alliance of Theatrical Empolyes' Association convened here to-day with about sixty delegates.

The work of the committee on credentials consumed the greater part of the day. The sessions are to last for one week. Delegates are in attendance from all parts of the country, including one from San Francisco, one from Galveston and several from the no one could imagine. one from Galveston and several from the New England States. All the sessions of the alliance are behind closed doors. It is given out to-night that the discussion of the Boston strike will occupy the attention of the alliance to-morrow; also the question of what is known as "home rule" will be taken up. The temper of the alliance is to demand that where there is a union the home stage employes shall do the work for traveling troupes to the exclusion of whatever stage employes they may carry with them.

Bequests in Daly's Will.

NEW YORK, June 19 .- The will of Augustin Daly, filed for probate to-day, gives to his wife all the personal effects, books, engravings, paintings, furniture, etc., in his residence, money in bank and securities. The will bequeathes to Miss Ada Rehan the Empire furniture in the private office which she may select. The will authorizes the ment. "Great heavens!" every one exexecutors to continue the business of Daly's claimed, "If the vicercine cannot stand the theaters in London and New York. It di-rects the executors to set apart a portion ful misfortune it will be!" rects the executors to set apart a portion of the proceeds of the business of those houses, not less than 40 per cent., which is to be divided annually between Miss Ada Rehan, Mrs. G. H. Gilbert, Richard Dorney. John Farrington, George Clark and Sidney Herbert, Miss Rehan to get 50 per cent. of the sum divided. The remainder, after deducting a sum for charitable purposes,

Among the number are Arthur Whiting, of New York; Arthur Fcote, of Boston; Constantin Sternberg, of Philadelphia; W. G. Smith, of Cleveland and others. Mr. William Sherwood, of Chicago, will be here to-morrow. Seventy-five delegates, representing all parts of the United States are expected.

The immense and relentless competition in sales in the mercantile world has aroused a corresponding competition in the methods of advertising. As a result advertisers are making it a point to endeavor to be extremely original; but this is a mistaken and profitless striving. There is no endless power of originality in the mind of man. A uniformity of thought and action domi-nates mankind, who are in reality imitators; their doings are merely repetitions of what has been done before. So the persis-tent advertiser who is eager for satisfactory results will gain them soonest by giv-ing solid, cheery and instructive informa-tion to his patrons through the medium of a newspaper which the public reads, and in which it has the utmost confidence.

That was not much, you say: yet in Calcutta they cannot remember who ever did as much at a first drawing room before. There are not many Americans in India, I think, yet she does not overlook them. She calls on the leading American lady in Bombay, makes much of our con-sul general's wife in Calcutta, and in that city also invites an American business man to lunch with her, then to dinner and then gives him her portrait to take to her mother. The position she made for herself in five weeks is best shown by the fact that all white circles in India were shout-ing her praises, when suddenly she fell ill,
